

I want to lodge several complaints with the FCC about the way this so called "watchdog" group does business.

First, your allowing huge companies like Sinclair and Clear Channel to buy up every media outlet the country is wrong. Giant media conglomerates destroy competition, reduce the number of voices on the airwaves and expose Americans to propaganda. By not doing your job to control big media, you are hurting we the people.

Second, your allowing the white House to produce fake news stories and distribute them to news outlets across the country is highly unethical. Media laziness should be punished, not encouraged. By not doing your job to keep blatant propaganda off the air, you are hurting we the people.

Finally, your allowing Sinclair Broadcasting to subvert democracy by forcing a commercial-free anti-Kerry documentary on millions of American households is reprehensible. By not doing your job in forcing Sinclair to pull this propaganda piece designed to skew a Presidential election, you are hurting we the people.

Shame on you. The FCC is supposed to protect we the people from big consolidated media. We the people pay your salaries. We the people place our trust in you. You have let us down, but it's not too late for you to start acting like a watchdog group and muzzle big media. That is, after all, your job.

Thank you.
